MAGNITUDE OF TOGO'S VICTORY INCREASING

Practically the Whole Russian Fleet Was Sunk cr Captured.

Fate of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky Is Uncertain, But It Is Thought Possible That He Escaped-Rejoicing Throughout Japan.

Latest advices confirm the magnitude of the disaster suffered by the Russian fleet, and point to the fact that Russia's hopes, so far as this war is concerned, now lie in whatever may be accomplished by the oft-beaten army in Manchuria. An official report received from Tokio by the Japanese legation at Washington Monday evening says that the Russian losses definitely known include two battleships, a coast defense ship, five cruisers, two special service ships and three destroyers sunk, and two battleships, two coast defense ships, one destroyer and one special service ship captured, while over 3,000 prisoners have been taken, including Rear Admiral Nebogatoff. The Japanese, it would seem, are still pursuing the Russians, and it may be some time before the final result is known.

There is nothing to clearly indicate the extent of the Japanese losses, and it is suggested from one source that the Tokio government is waiting to hear from Admiral Rojestvensky by way of Vladivostok before announcing to what extent its fleet has suffered.

The news of the disaster has caused deep depression in official Russia, though it is not yet known generally among the Russian people. Latest advices confirm the magnitude of the disaster suffered by the

The news of the disaster has caused deep depression in official Russia, though it is not yet known generally among the Russian people.

Rojestvensky's defeat has given rise to renewed talk of peace. It is pointed out by the Associated Press'St. Petersburg correspondent that Russia in this crisis will turn to France through its foreign minister. M. Delcasse, while from Washington comes information that President Rossevelt, in accordance with his promise announced a long time ago, is taking steps to do all in his power to bring about peace negotiations.

Nothing has been heard from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky. In Tokio there is some belief that he has perished, while another source says he was rescued by a torpedo boat, but that he is wounded.

Tokio, May 29.—(5:30 p. m.)—The personal fate of Vice Admiral Rojestven-sky is not known. There is some belief that he possibly perished.

Tokio, May 29.—(9 p. m.)—The number of Russian vessels of all descriptions sunk and captured by Admiral Togo's fleet now stands at nineteep. It is possible that three additional warships were sunk in the fight Saturday.

The navy department refrains, however, from crediting reports of this natural until it is assured of their correctness. It is believed that the Ural is the equipment of the captured transport which has been omitted in the list previously Surprising Facts.

"What is most difficult to explain is the capture of so many vessels. The sinking of some of the larger and more powerful ships may be explained by the opening of the valves of the ships before they were fought to a finish. The fact that so many prisoners were taken would indicate that in some cases the ships were abandoned before they were completely disabled. Certainly gunfire could not have sunk the larger battleships without the destruction of nearly everyone on board.

"Russian losses definitely known s far may be classified as follows: Two battleships, one coast defense ship, fiv destroyers were sunk; two battleships, two coast defense ships, one special service ship and one destroyer were captured. It is not yet clear whether the three vessels as stated by prisoners to have been sunk are included or not in above list. There are more than 1,000 prisoners, besides 2,000 taken by main force of combined squadron. The naval engagement is still in progress, so that it will take some time because of the correspondent of the Daily Mail at Seoul. The inner line was held by Admiral Togo with the battleships and Vice Admiral Kamimura with the cruisers. Rear Admiral Kamimura with the cruisers. Rear Admiral Kataoka, with the light squadron first aftacked Rojestvensky. The order and circumstance of the attack are not clear. According to one report. Kamimura went outside the straits and foiled Rojestvensky, preventing his retreat. When Rojestvensky encountered Admiral Togo there appears to have been a running fight to the northeastward Saturday afternoon. There were a series of desperate and successful torpedo attacks Saturday night, and a resumption of the battle on Sunday. Togo pressing the Russian fleet toward the southeastern coast of Korea.

The fate of Admiral Rojestvensky is doubtful. It is thought that probably he escaped to Vladivostok. Pending the conclusion of the Japanese pursuit and the identification of the three vessels which surrounded by the main division of Togo's fleet, and if this were true.
